

Kimberly Snook, DVM

Emergency & Critical Care

Dr. Kimberly Snook is a native-born Houstonian who has finally made it back home and is looking eager to serve the Houston veterinary community. She graduated from the Tuskegee University College of Veterinary Medicine in 2020, and then made the trek up to Brooklyn, New York to complete a small animal rotating internship at the Veterinary Emergency and Referral Group. She has had a soft spot for neurology throughout her veterinary career, and has additional interests in soft tissue surgery, wound management and the Fear Free care model. Outside of work Kim can be found practicing her indoor rock climbing, yoga, bike riding, baking, playing her favorite Legend of Zelda games, and exploring the ever-growing Houston restaurant scene. She shares her life's adventures with her husband Caileb, and her two cats, Noodles and Nugget.
