

Melissa Blazeovich, DVM

Dr. Melissa Blazeovich graduated from Louisiana State University School of Veterinary Medicine in 2016, where she developed a strong interest in veterinary dentistry. After graduation, she completed a one year small animal rotating internship at Texas A&M University, which further confirmed her goal to pursue advanced training in veterinary dentistry and oral surgery.

Dr. Blazeovich is originally from the small town of Independence, Louisiana where she and her husband, Brent, enjoy farm life with their 4 dogs, 1 cat, and 6 goats. In her spare time, Dr. Blazeovich loves to workout, spend time outdoors, travel, and attend LSU athletic events as well as spend quality time with her family and friends.